

STOP !!!

That's what the signs say at a number of intersections in town. Make sure you obey the signal.

Someone or maybe it was two did just that one night last week. They stepped, went out and used a lot of effort to bend one of the stop signs into a position which made it look like a duck that got drowsy.

At the time it may have been funny to the ones concerned, but had they been apprehended: a stiff fine and cancellation of a lot of privileges, which are allowed only those who know how to use them. Think again, fellas.

Ladies Golf Club Elect New Officers

The ladies section of the Didsbury Golf Club began the 1956 season with a meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Lynch-Staunton. A large group of enthusiastic golfers and would-be golfers attended.

The election of officers was held, with Mrs. J. Currie heading the group as president. Her assistants are vice-president, Mrs. Nichol; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. McMillen; Mrs. Wm. McFarquhar, Mrs. K. Shannon and Mrs. C. A. Shannon. Mrs. L. Berscht and Mrs. A. Allen.

Plans for the season were discussed and a "next-to-new" sale and bake sale will be organized for an early date.

No special ladies' day has been planned for the present, but when weather permits it will be on Thursday. Those unable to play on Thursday are asked to play their games off during the following week.

The club extends a cordial invitation to all who are interested to come often.

Could You Use A Film

Could your organization use films for education purposes, or for entertainment? Would such films as the following be of interest to you? The following films form, what is commonly called, the basic program: The R.C.M.P. Musical Ride (in color); The Dresden Story (answering the question "Has Canada a Negro problem?"); Paul Tomkowicz - Street Railway Switchman (a graphic film of how others work); and a short Eye Witness showing such items as carved stones used by the Eskimos for trading, a model railway with 700 feet of track.

If you could use films as these - a different basic block is available every month, and there are some 33 films available at all times - we could ask you to send a representative to the Rosebud Film Council meeting to be held on Monday evening, April 23 at 8:00 p.m. in the Didsbury School. The purpose of this meeting is to reorganize the council and gain new members. Membership fees per organization will be approximately $25 per year. This fee allows a member of the council the free use of all films of the basic block (8 such blocks are available throughout the year) and also all the films belonging to the Central Alberta Film Federation, of which the Rosebud Film Council is a member. This federation has, in the course of the past years, purchased and received as grants, well over 300 films on a variety of subjects.

All interested groups or organizations are asked to send one or more representatives to the meeting Monday, April 23 at 8 p.m. in the Didsbury school.

BERGEN NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

By all appearances spring seems to be here. The birds have returned from the south and the welcome croaking of the frogs can be heard. Not so welcome are the mosquitoes and are they ever big ones! One thing we are grateful for is the good condition of the roads considering the spring break-up.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Gamble and family, Mrs. Tryve Haus and Dale attended the wedding reception for their nephew Howard Stevens in Calgary on March 29. While in Calgary they also visited Mrs. Gamble's parents Mrs. Ellis and Mr. Cooper and Mrs. Clarence Gamble also Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gamble who are the proud parents of a son born March 25th.

FLOWERS . . . SO SOON!

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Tuggle are displaying cut flowers in their home this week - they were grown this year. However, they were not grown in Didsbury, they came from Vancouver, the highlight from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. George Brewster, former resident of this town. The Brewsters report that the weather has been very dry on the west coast but now the gardens are a picture to see in that area.

More Details On Hail Suppression

Why is there opposition to Hail Suppression? Hail Suppression is one of the newer sciences. All weather modification, as practiced commercially has been developed in the last decade. Weather modification techniques, while basically not complicated, are not known and understood by the average person. Therefore one may have a tendency to doubt the value of these operations. This condition, however, is not new. From the beginning of time, new developments have been looked on with distrust. To name only a few - the bicycle, automobile, radio, television; and it is not strange that hail suppression is being looked askance at by some people today.

It is those who do not understand hail suppression who are condemning it! There are those who condemn the program from a religious viewpoint, believing that the atmosphere does not belong in man's domain. It can be stated that the large majority of church leaders and ministers are not against this work as interfering with nature.

In the hail suppression areas in Oregon and California, opposition existed in the beginning as it does here but now after two years of hail suppression that opposition has practically disappeared. This has been positively recorded by Mr. Harry Semrau who stated he was unable to find, in either area, anyone who was now opposing the program. This is further proven by the fact that both groups are now operating for the third consecutive year.

It is necessary to first operate the program so that all may clearly see its advantages.

RUSY SPOT . . .

NO FOOLIN' . . .

WHERE? THE GOLF COURSE

Yes, they were out in full force at the local course on Sunday and the lost balls, poor drives and poor putts took their toll. Unexercised muscles were the excuse in most cases. Also in most cases the muscles got a fair amount of exercise crawling under and over the fences retrieving an elusive pillow.

We won't mention any names here but we did see one character go across three fences in one hole and then end up in a small pool on the last hole. We don't know his name but his initials are Sam Devine.

ASSOCIATION PLANS HAIL SUPPRESSION MEETINGS

The wishes of the ratepayers of the Municipal District of Mt. View regarding a hail suppression program will be decided on Monday, May 14, when a vote will be taken to decide whether or not the ones who pay the shot are in favor.

The cost of this project to the Proprietary Electors if it is a "yes" vote, will be $72,500. This amount will be added to the regular current tax levy, plus other administrative costs to be determined. This project is on a year basis.

Further details, pro and con will appear in a later addition of this paper.

Following this Mrs. Booker held a contest by having pictures taken from the readers with sign language over the words and having the members try to read what was under the pictures. ## Who Pays For ADVERTISING

NOT the newspaper reader, because he saves both time and money by shopping the wide selection of honest values offered through the advertising columns.
NOT the advertiser, because advertising always returns a profit when it is used correctly and consistently!
NOT the publisher, because of the hundreds of firms who profitably invest hundreds of thousands of dollars in newspaper advertising!

Every Line Of Advertising in The Paper Is Paid For By The Fellow Who Doesn't Advertise !

The business which the non-advertiser loses pays the costs of advertising and ALSO returns a nice profit to the fellow who does advertise! HOPING for more business is not as effective as inviting more business!

WHERE CAN YOU GET CHEAPER AND BETTER ADVERTISING VALUE THAN IN THE DIDSBURY PIONEER, WHICH REACHES 90% OF THE HOMES IN THE DISTRICT AT A COST OF LESS THAN 1/2 CENT PER READER FOR AN ADVERTISEMENT THE SIZE OF THE ONE YOU ARE READING.

CODE OF THE ROAD

Tension And Tolerance ...

Current advice for those desirous of avoiding stomach ulcers and coronary attacks is that they should cultivate tolerance and not allow themselves to become upset by the numerous mistakes and disappointments that clutter every business day. The theory seems to be that the tensions that are supposed to be harmful to heart and stomach will disappear if one does not treat them seriously, and that the easy-going person will have a better chance of long life than the worrier and the perfectionist.

The theory may be sound. Like many theories dealing with human health, it cannot be logically proved or disproved. Too many variables are present in any human problem for any generalization about it to be unconditionally true. It might be worth while to consider whether tolerance, which in its present manifestations is increasing along with ulcers and coronary disease, may not be a cause as well as a cure of the tensions of modern life.

The bad old past, even in the nineteenth century, and certainly in earlier days, was not marked by any general tolerance for tolerance. It is increasing along with ulcers and coronary disease, may not be a cause as well as a cure of the tensions of modern life.

What distinguished the intolent survivors in past ages from their modern counterparts was their certainty of righteousness as far as their own actions were concerned. Whether they were burning witches or heretics, fighting Roundheads or Cavaliers, blowing rebellious natives from gun or waging any of the innumerable wars that built the British Empire, they had no doubt that what they were doing was the only thing to be done, and the right thing because it was done by them. Nowadays there is so much to be said on both sides of any question that no matter what a man does, he may be tortured by the thought that he could have done something else that was fairer or better. It is arguable that the tensions created by conscientious scruples are greater, and worse for the individual, than anything that might have happened in the good old days of general intolerance.

This is not intended to promote a revival of intolerance as a working principle. The modern social conscience renders such a revival impossible. It's better not to brood on the impossibility, for that may easily start a new crop of ulcers.

Woman to Court: "My husband has a split personality — and I hate both of them."

A woman complained that her husband was careless about his appearance. "He ain't showed up in two years."

SWEET SORROW

One of Stephen Leacock's favorite stories concerned the Scotchman who could never get along with his sister-in-law, Maude. Despite his wife's repeated entreaties, he disliked being with her under any condition.

One day, as his wife lay dying, she looked up at him and feebly whispered: "Jock, ye'll drive Maude with you at my funeral, will ye no?"

"Mary," replied Jock, obviously fighting a bitter internal struggle, "I'll do it for ye, but it'll spoil my whole day."

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

A columnist, after analyzing 90,000 letters received from readers, concludes that "fear is private enemy No. 1." Almost everyone, it seems, is afraid of one thing or another. Fear of the future, fear of the future, fear for one's health, fear for one's wealth; and a thousand and one other fears overwhelm mankind today.

Basic to all fear is the sense of guilt and the dread of future punishment. That means, sin underlies these fears. Sin weighs heavily upon mankind, whether he admits it or denies it, for Scripture pointedly states: "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." Remove sin from human life, and you remove the deepest root of fear.

But how can you remove sin? Only the Christian Gospel can remove that sin; only the Gospel offers forgiveness through the death of Christ. Only the Gospel tells us: "God made us to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him." For that reason "Fear not" is the opening, and appropriate one, for many Bible verses. We read: "Fear not, thy sins be forgiven thee." Again: "Fear not, there shall no evil befall thee." And again: "Fear not, I will uphold thee." Yes, and once again: "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

Whoever has accepted the love of God in Christ need never be afraid of anything. As long as you do not leave Christ, He will not leave you. "Be not afraid, only believe," Jesus says.

Canadian statistics show that 19,694 Canadians died of cancer in 1954. This is almost one in every six deaths.

The annual meeting of the Mountain View Livestock Co-operative was held recently at Innisfail. The program was in charge of the chairman of the board of directors, E. Espersen, Olds and the secretary, W. Niabet, Bowden.

Guest speakers included Gerry Heath, secretary of the Alberta Co-operative Union. The function of the organization, he said, was to further the growth of co-operatives and he was available to assist individual groups in this regard.

W. H. Mead, supervisor of livestock improvement for Alberta, spoke on "Alberta's Swine Improvement." It was agreed that better boars of bacon type are necessary for improving the quality of pork to the consumer. A plan is underway where the Alberta government and the Mountain View co-op will each contribute $10 towards the cost of registered boars for the use of members.

George Winkelaar, manager of Alberta Livestock Co-Operative, gave a review of marketing problems and prospects for this organization.

A bonus of 12 cents per pig was declared on all shipments made in 1955. A prize of $10 will be paid to the farmer who markets the greatest number of Grade A hogs, over a minimum of 25 head, during 1956.

Gross returns for the 39,200 hogs marketed during 1955 were $1,285,350.39. Gross returns for the 1,609 cattle marketed during the same period was $179,453.52. Gross returns for the 1,121 sheep was $16,410.38.

Directors for 1956 include: chairman, E. Espersen, Olds; vice-chairman, Don MacLeod, secretary, W. Niabet, Bowden; directors, J. Tinner, Red Deer; I. Anderson, Olds; W. E. Stiles and H. C. Larson, Didsbury; R. B. Galloway, Innisfail; J. Donner, Alphonse Fox, Bowden; J. Bickley, Penhold.

The local shipping agent is R. E. Gillie.

The 1956 objective of the Canadian Cancer Campaign is $2,100,000. More money will be spent on research than ever before.

No Need For Continuous Advertising

Preachers ...

Should preach only one sermon or so a year. People are against sin anyway, so why harp on it.

Traffic Lights ...

Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.

Teachers ...

Do not need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

Highway Police ...

Stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and should obey.

Out of Towners ...

That advertisements in the local paper and mail order firms that send out catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold in the stores in town and they'll all shop at home.

But if you are one of the foolish kind — like the Notre Dame cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is still there — and believe in continuous, profitable advertising then you will want to advertise in

Ramblin' and Roamin'

It's Been Done — The ratepayers of Olds turned out the polls in overwhelming numbers and passed a hospital-by-law for a $100,000 addition to the present building. The vote was 912 for the new wing, 216 opposed. After checking the local situation we fail to see why a few miles should make such a difference. The situation in our local healing centre is getting beyond control but still no action. What gives?

Dog Days Arrive — We mean this literally — six of 'em were growling around our door this morning. Guess people feel the same way at this time of year — you want to howl but you don't know just why or what about.

Clean-up Time — We made the big effort on our outside premises last weekend. Even went so far as to burn the grass on an empty lot adjoining our place of operation. The property is owned by the town so we borrowed the fire engine to make sure everything would be under control. Looks better now in this area. (That double siren at noon was caused by someone touching the wrong switch on the fire engine. It's a hard one to find, took us all of 10 minutes to hit the right button.)

Time For Goli — Not yet, not until a great deal of cleaning up has been done on the course. Seems like it's been the spot where some vandals have been having what they seem to think is fun. The club house has been broken into, windows broken, benches turned over, broken bottles litter the course and a sorry mess prevails around most of the layout. Time for action in this area?

Early Road Ban — Trucks have been subject to road bans for a few weeks now. In some instances we agree on the areas under control but the highway from here to Calgary is still in as good shape as it was six months ago. Seems like the ban goes on too soon and comes off too soon. We'll get the bumps later, no doubt.

Hail Suppression Vote — It's definite now — a vote will be taken next month to check the desires of those who pay the bills. The question is, would toying with Mother Nature alleviate the hail menace. Nothing to do but wait and see.

No Plans Yet — What happened to that playground project? What is lacking — funds or effort?

Saw Our First Robin — Hope he likes the climate well enough to stay around.

Somersaults

The somersaults of the new Soviet rulers appear to have caught communist parties in other countries unprepared. Particularly embarrassing to Canada's Tim Buck and other Labor Progressive party members in this country is the posthumous purge of Josef Stalin.

Mr. Buck on the occasion of Stalin's death, indulged in the most extravagant eulogies in tribute to the late Soviet dictator. "His name," said Canada's Number 1 communist, "will live in the annals of the world's greatest contribution, his crown-endure through the ages and so will his work."

The economic theories of the late Soviet dictator, now discredited by the new Kremlin clique, were also loudly praised. Said Mr. Buck, "Stalin's greatest contribution, his crowning glory, is his classic work Economic Problems of Socialism in the USSR."

This work of genius is a guide and handbook for the present generation of the USSR that is building the Communist society for which Stalin labored all his life. It analyzes the today and the tomorrow of the peoples living in socialist society and charts the sure road to communism. This is the guide too for Canadians and all peoples still living under the yoke of capitalism.

It is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Buck and the LPP will find it possible to adjust themselves to the Kremlin's "new look" at Stalin, but at the moment there must be a good deal of embarrassment.

"WHY DO THAT?"

Why do that, grandpa?

"Do what?"

"Turn your shoes over before you put them on."

"Did I?"

"Yes, grandpa, you did, and I did not see anything fall out of them."

Grandpa chuckled. "I guess I got that habit when I was in India."

"Why did you do it then?"

"It was necessary there, to shake out the scorpions, centipedes or other species of vermin that might be hiding in them."

Habit is a funny thing. Forming any habit is like winding ourselves up in a chain from which we cannot get free. During World War II some Canadian prisoners, were chained, contrary to international agreement, a couple of Red Cross workers visited these Canadians when they were being so treated, and made a report in these words. "They are wearing their chains with pride and buoyancy." The way we ought all to wear any chains that come our way because of our loyalty to duty and to our faith.

When habits are young they resemble fuzzy, playful kittens. When they become grown up and mature they are like wild beasts, that refuse to be regulated or molested. Most habits begin innocently and pleasantly. Later we become our own prisoners, wearing chains of our own forging. These we do not wear with pride and buoyancy.

The Ladies Home Journal carried a story entitled "Living on Misery Street." It was mostly about an unemployed father. The mother had two jobs; three with her home making. The boys helped her and were taught to be thrifty. They were to work not steal, love not hate, praise not blame, and to take no kind of stimulant or dope. "Clean habits," said mother, "are important."

The father when out of a job went to bed when times got hard or life's road became difficult. He was always sorry for himself. He was continually finding fault. He would feel really hurt if anyone suggested he could get a job at the other side of the town. "Why do that?" he would ask. Surely the shoes of his thinking needed turning upside down.

We could all profit by being more thrifty with our time, our opportunities, our talents and abilities lest we find ourselves in need of what we missed by neglect. It is a tragedy to be inefficient at a time when the world is calling for leaders and promoters for great causes, and vital enterprises, such as make lives and peoples unmeasurably useful and valuable. Yesterdays unfruitful habits will be easier dropped today than they will be tomorrow.

Then there are our habits toward spiritual realities to consider. Here two attitudes have become quite prevalent among us. One is a way of complaining, which asks "What have I done to deserve this? The other is a form of doubt. "How can I be sure?" First we cannot so back five years, five days or even five minutes to change courses that have been taken, nor to assess blame. All improvements will be made in some now.

Second we each have to accept ourselves as we are. The Salk vaccine cannot prevent the suffering caused by polio, in year gone by. Nor will it help where it is never made use of, either this year or next. Forgiveness is always available to lift the load of guilt. Grace is always sufficient for every kind of need at all times. Our self-forged chains can always be made to fall off.

Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains. The Lord came to him saying rise up quickly, and his chains fell off. Peter did not ask "why?"

Farm Forum Held in Banff

During the first part of this week an Electrical Farming Forum was held at the Banff School of Fine Arts in Banff. In attendance at the forum were all the district agriculturists, their assistants, a number of agricultural engineers and other executive members of the Department of Agriculture.

The purpose of the forum was to discuss the application of electric service to farm operations and how the farmers could use this service to best advantage.

The primary objective of the course was: how can the power companies, the suppliers of equipment and district agriculturists be of most service to the over 35,000 farmers who have had their farm electrified during the past few years.

The DA's raised questions which they had been asked by farmers — questions which indicate the problems the farmers have. These were discussed under the chairmanship of several guest speakers.

Subjects discussed and demonstrated included new regulations under the Revolving Fund Act for farm electrification, basic electrical theory, the Electrical Protection Act, the new Farm "Electrical" tractor generator, heat lamps and their application to livestock and poultry raising, sprinkler irrigation, motors and controls, remote control wiring, water pressure systems, underground cables, grain grinders and cleaners, H. J. Fulcher, local district agriculturist attended the conference.

This forum revealed the almost day-to-day new innovations which will help the farmer to operate his farm more economically. These will be brought to the attention of the farmers through the Department of Agriculture.

WHY NOT?

According to a story going around Europe, one Prague resident refused to join in the general out-cry against a new Stalin statue in the city's public square.

"Why not?" he said. "It will give us shade in the summer, shelter in the winter, and an opportunity for the birds to speak for all of us."

I have done to deserve this? The other is a form of doubt. "How can I be sure?" First we cannot so back five years, five days or even five minutes to change courses that have been taken, nor to assess blame. All improvements will be made in some now.

Second we each have to accept ourselves as we are. The Salk vaccine cannot prevent the suffering caused by polio, in year gone by. Nor will it help where it is never made use of, either this year or next. Forgiveness is always available to lift the load of guilt. Grace is always sufficient for every kind of need at all times. Do We Need Federal
Aid For Education

Dr. M. E. LaZerte, Research
Director, Canadian School
Trusts' Association

It is apparent that local taxes and provincial grants must provide most of the money needed for the schools.
Should there, however, be federal aid
for elementary and secondary education? The answer depends upon provincial needs and upon the standards
we want in education. To think profitably about the question asked, one must know what the tax-paying abilities of each province is, what percentage of its population is of elementary and secondary school age, what relative annual expenditure it is now making on education and what standard of education is to be considered acceptable. For example, in two provinces the relative tax-paying abilities per capita are 118 and 218, the percentage of the populations in school 19.3 and 17.6 and the average 1951-52 expenditures per classroom
$4,190 and $5,375. An expenditure of $5,375 by the second province is the equivalent of only $2,909 by the first. Then, for the relative numbers of classrooms required per $1,000 population are as 19.3 to 17.6. Therefore, an actual expenditure of $2,909
per classroom in the first province represents the same effort as does a per classroom expenditure of $5,375
in the second.

If the cost of an acceptable school program is, say $5,000 per classroom
per year, the one province can meet these requirements easily but the other needs much assistance unless it makes twice the effort made by its sister province. It is apparent that all provinces are not equally able to support elementary and secondary school programs. If the least wealthy province is now offering satisfactory schooling or could offer it with adequate effort, there is no valid argument for federal aid. However, if the programs offered by some provinces are at such a low cost level that they cannot be acceptable and,
second, the demands of all combined municipal services are so heavy that expenditures on education cannot be increased without impairing other services.

The Canadian School Trusts
Association believes that education is of such national importance that the Federal Government should make certain that education is not allowed to fall below acceptable standards.
The Federal Government is dependent upon the provinces for the basic general education of its armed forces personnel. Gross national production totals are greatly affected by the quality of Canadian public education.
The Dominion's place in world trade is similarly conditioned as is also the general social and cultural level of Canadian school children, wherever they live should have equal educational opportunities. It is to aid local district and provincial governments in providing such opportunities, with some equity of effort that federal aid is needed.

The principle of equalization has long been accepted at the local district level; it is being extended rapidly to large administrative unit level. Equalization at the provincial level is desired and it is for this purpose that federal aid is requested. Equalization need not, of course, apply to education only but the national significance of this service is so great that education, along with health probably, should take precedence over other provincial services. The Canadian School Trusts' Association is advocating federal aid to equalize the foundation programs that can be supported in the several provinces. Although this aid might be given indirectly and included in general equalization grants on a "per pupil" basis, the plan of distribution favored by the Association is that of indirect educational grants for elementary and secondary education,
these distributed to the provinces on the basis of need. The need is for federal aid sufficient to bring the basic foundation program level that can be financed by each province to an agreed-upon Canadian standard.

COYOTE CONTROL: Last week we attended an Agricultural Service Board conference in Calgary. Some interesting facts and figures were released pertaining to coyote control.
Mr. Wm. Lobay, supervisor of pest control for Alberta gave these figures about coyotes. During five years, 1944 to 1949 under the bounty system 50,000 coyotes were accounted for. In 1951 the Department of Agriculture instituted the poison program with 100,000 pellets (strychnine)
cyanide cartridges and coyote guns
and the new poison known as 1080.
During 5 years a total of 38,280
strychnine pellets; 24,250 bottles
scat (Evinor in Paris) and 478, 1080 poison bait stations accounted for a total of 196,300 coyotes. In comparing costs of the bounty versus the poison program these figures were given. At $2.50 per scalp it would have cost $488,750.00 while the cost per coyote using poison was 17 cents per animal or $33,371.00.
Quite a difference in cost is most obvious. Reports reaching me from the areas in which we are now using 1080 baits are high in their praise
for the effectiveness of this program.
With coyote populations drastically reduced and poultry and poultry breeders should be able to carry on with a minimum of trouble from coyote upgradations.

Trees For Farmers
In Heavy Demand

The use of trees on Alberta farmsteads, both for ornamentation and as shelterbelts, has increased considerably during the past five years.
In 1950 approximately 100,000 trees
were supplied to Alberta farmers from provincial nurseries at Brooks and Oliver. In 1955 the number of trees delivered to farms from these sources had increased to nearly one million.

By this spring 2,500 farmers had already placed orders for nearly two million trees. Approximately two-thirds of these will be supplied through provincial nurseries while the remainder will be shipped from the federal government nurseries at Indian Head, Saskatchewan.
Although advance orders have taken
this year's supply of spruce, larch, Scotch pine, Colorado and white spruce, Alberta farmers can still obtain such species as caragana, Manitoba maple, green ash, lodgepole pine,
mountain ash, honeysuckle, rowan,
and several varieties of poplar.

Supplied through the Alberta Department of Agriculture, trees from provincial nurseries are delivered to farmers with the only costs being those of railway express charges.
There is however, an additional charge of one cent for evergreens
from the Indian Head nursery.
The only regulations governing the securing of trees are that application should be made one year in advance and the plot of ground to be used for planting of trees must be summerfallowed for at least a year.

When the application forms are received by the Field Crops Branch, they must contain an outline of where the trees are to be planted in relation to existing buildings, trees, and roadways. Advice is then given to help the farmer plant his trees
where they will be most beneficial.

Two government mechanical tree planters are used extensively each year for demonstration purposes during the tree planting season which usually takes place in May. There is however an increasing number of municipalities that are purchasing their own mechanical tree planters
and are conducting organized planting "bees".

Application forms and advice on the proper location of new trees can be secured from either the local district agriculturists or directly from the Field Crops Branch of the Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. H. Nielson was appointed to the rest room. A very interesting paper on education was written by Mrs. H. Shiels and read by Mrs. A.

Hughes. Mrs. Parker of Australia sang a very interesting talk on Australian W. I. work.
The bit of fun was crazy hats which were judged in two classes, the presented hats modeled by Mrs. J. Nielson; these hats created a good laugh.
Mrs. A. Hughes won the ten cent draw which netted $3.20. Mrs. Parker sang a few songs, one the Australian creed song, which was very enjoyable. Pictures were taken of the group.
The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ron Milne on May 9th.

Local W.C.T.U. Reports Much Progress In Past Year

(Contributed)

On the beautiful sunny afternoon of April 12 the Women's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. Ira Stauffer with 32 ladies present. The president of the central district, Mrs. G. Fretwell of Clive, was the guest speaker, very ably addressing the ladies on the subject "Alcoholism and Heredity."

The latest scientific statements regarding alcoholism were quoted from writings by Ernest Gordon, a man well-versed on this subject, through research and travel in several different countries. A prominent doctor, head of the Medical Assn. in France, states that the harm of alcohol to adults is mild compared to the harm suffered by their children.

In Alberta during the past few years the increase in alcoholism is very high with some 25,000 alcoholics at present. The many enlightening facts were indeed a challenge to greater service and efforts toward slaying the force of this evil.

The meeting closed a profitable year's activities of the W.C.T.U. Its many branches of work provided an interesting variety of subjects dealt with each month.

Among the children, beginning with the youngest members, the "Little White Ribbons," a picnic was held, and while they enjoyed an illustrated story, choruses, and games, the mothers had the privilege of listening to a helpful talk by a nurse. In Sunday schools temperance lessons were studied and to those who answered questions, prizes were given. Posters depicting health and temperance made in schools among grades 2, 3, 4, and 5 resulted in some fine exhibits.

Those receiving prizes were 1st, Eddie Shannon, Coleen Cowan, Stanley Shannon, 2nd, Murray Wackett, Shirley Kew, Inez Toppert, 3rd, Gordon Reimer, Judy Kouschuh, Sharon Riddoch.

This week awards for the winning posters will be given. These efforts, together with the fine medal contest held recently, have been a worthwhile endeavor among the children. The W.C.T.U. affords splendid fellowship among the ladies of different denominations. It keeps us alert to the conditions about us and gives opportunities for united service. Visitors are always welcome to the meetings, held every second Thursday of the month.

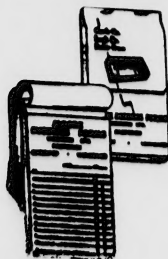

The officers elected are as follows: president, Mrs. Arthur Eby; vice-president, Mrs. Dave Janzen; secretary, Mrs. Roy Adam; treasurer, Mrs. Jim Hooper; cor. secretary, Mrs. O. Skaar; Y. T. C. secretary, Mrs. Don Weber.

REDEEMER LADIES' AID MONTHLY MEETING

The regular meeting of Redeemer Ladies' Aid was held April 12 in the church basement. Pastor Fox began the devotional period with Hymn 210, followed by the reading of Ps. 138 and a prayer. The pastor then showed with various scripture passages that the essentials of an ideal Christian home were peace, kindness, respect, pureness, love, contentment, hospitality. All in the home must be industrious, there ought to be children, parents must instruct them in God's Word. But the important thing above all is Christ's presence, for without Him all the other qualities of a home are vain.

Martha Esler reported on the Fellowship supper. The last one was well attended and enjoyed by all, but due to spring work the date of next one was tabled until next meeting. The gypsy basket is making the rounds.

Mrs. R. Meyer reported on kitchen supplies. It was decided to buy paper bags for vacuum cleaner and a rubber mat for sink. Mrs. Emma Folkmann is to inquire about a step ladder for kitchen.

Call Club Hears Report of Members

West Didsbury Call Club met at the Alex Blain farm on April 6th. At the barn members placed the Hereford bulls, Marjorie and Donald Bird and Mr. Robinson judged them and Mr. Hughes placed the class of heifers.

Eleven members repeated the 4H pledge. Reports were as follows: "Training of a Call," by Lila Blain; "Washing and Curling a Call," by Dwylla Byrt and "Roughage," by Dale Befus.

Mr. Robinson spoke to the members and congratulated them on their fine reports. Each family received a sticker for their car.

The club wishes to thank everyone who made the recent social evening a success when $75.00 was cleared. Next meeting will be held on April 26 at 8 p.m. at the home of Harvey Hosegood.

measure of support for the Cancer Society's program of saving lives through education.

An understanding of cancer research — its scope and progress — inspires confidence that cancer can be conquered once and for all. This also means growing support for the Cancer Society's program of research by several hundred thoughtful scientists in institutions throughout Canada.

A public that knows the Cancer Society's program of service and comfort to cancer patients will also want to support it — and participate in it.

Experience has taught the Canadian Cancer Society that fund-raising and education go hand-in-hand in effective cancer control activity. The slogan, "Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Cheque" is a good example.

Personal knowledge of cancer safeguards health, protects life. The extent of this knowledge also is a

Price Supports Cause Concern

The price supports for farm products are being seriously considered by responsible Canadians has distressed some newspapers, says the Western Producer. Commenting on the attitude of the Calgary Herald and Edmonton Journal both of which are unalterably opposed to price protection for farm people, the Producer says:

"If supports prices for agricultural products are out of the question, what then about other industries of much less importance to the national economy? For nearly a hundred years our overgrown infant industries have been sheltered from the chill winds of competition by towering tariff walls. Who has paid for this protection? All the consumers of Canada, but to a greater degree than any other class, the farmers have paid. Agriculture has paid millions, yes, over the years, hundreds of millions, so that these infants could be 'mollycoddled' behind the protective shelter of the tariffs and grow in to the giants which they have become. Was it or is it today an equitable proposition that farmers should, at uncounted cost, hold a sheltering umbrella over other industries but sinful to suggest that like aid to be extended to agriculture in its time of trouble?"

The Producer then continues: "When protection is removed from all sections of the Canadian community and when acceptable recognition has been given for the huge sums agriculture has already paid in providing that protection in the past, then those who oppose support prices for farm products will be in a better position to talk."

DISRCT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Through a grave oversight of mine we failed to report the speech recital given in the United Missionary Church on April 5th. Mr. Waldin, who has taught speech for a number of years in this college, is to be highly commended for the worthwhile work he presented with his speech class of only six members. For the first time Mr. Waldin took part in the play himself and in the play, "The Rehearsal," he took the part of Herod himself. He not only directs these plays but writes them as well. The joint speech contest presented its finalists on that evening. Those participating were: Arnold Dietz, Harry Dyck, David Archer and Jan-Shannon. David Archer secured first place in the reading of Scripture, and Arnold Dietz second. Rev. Straughton, Mrs. Booker and Miss Dorothy Thompson, speech teacher at Canadian Nazareth College, Red Deer, were the judges for the evening.

This last weekend the choir under the direction of Ormand Sherrick, and with the accompanist Miss Mariene chairman, is presenting its annual program in Castor, Galianad, Stettler, Camrose and Lacombe. They will appear here on Friday evening of this week in the United Missionary church.

We have been receiving some more enquiries from prospective students concerning work at the college next year. Rev. Taylor and four men will tour in the States immediately after school closes.

Mrs. Kasey, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Sander and Miss Eby spent Friday afternoon in Calgary. It was a much needed rest for all of them and they enjoyed having supper together and shopping, if a good deal of it was only the window type.

Elsewhere in the paper there will be an outline of closing events so and put it some place as a constant reminder of the closing exercises of the college which you must by all means attend.

Presented Taylor, accompanied by the King's Messengers Quartette, were guest speakers and singers at the L.S.C.F. in Carstairs Tuesday noon.
